Soft Skill Development Workshop

26th October to 29th October 2023

Venue: Seminar Hall M.M. College, Darwaha Time: 12.00 pm

Introduction:

Soft skills are non-technical skills that describe how you work and interact with others. Unlike hard skills, they're not necessarily something you'll learn in a course, like data analytics or programming. Instead, they reflect your communication style, work ethic, and work style. Soft skills apply to all kinds of jobs and careers. For example, a professor and an investment manager can both be great communicators and have exceptional leadership skills, although how those skills translate into their professions can look quite different. No matter what field you're interested in, these skills won't just come in handy — they'll be integral to your success at a company. We all have soft skills because they are part of who we are," Sabrina Cortes, resume writer, says. "Top soft skills are teamwork, attention to detail, time management, organization, verbal and written communication, leadership, emotional intelligence, adaptability/flexibility, problem-solving/conflict resolution, and interpersonal skills ... Unfortunately, all too often, these personality traits are overlooked. But they play a role in each job out there." Soft skills include attributes and personality traits that help employees interact with others and succeed in the workplace. Examples of soft skills include the ability to communicate with prospective clients, mentor your co-workers, lead a team, negotiate a contract, follow instructions, and get a job done on time. It helps you with the opportunities in career advancement. You become more aware at the personal level to connect with others more easily.
